

Dear Permanent members of CEGSS,

Due to COVID-19 circumstances we decided to find another date for the symposium. Almost everyone in Slovenia has been working from home the past few weeks and which brought some trouble in communication with our symposium venue - hotel Union in Ljubljana. We have finally received their reply today. So we apologize for the delay.

We will change the dates for the symposia to 21st - 24th September 2020. In the worst case scenario that there would still be some trouble in September (e.g. with travel connections or some safety measures taken by different countries that would prevent most participants from joining etc.) we have back-up dates reserved on 29th June - 2nd July 2021. But we hope for the best and to meet you all in Ljubljana in September 2020.

In the following days we still need to check with our invited speakers if they can attend the symposium on the new dates before we make an official announcement on the website. Please let us know by Wednesday April 15th if you can attend the ISSS symposium on the new dates 21st - 24th September 2020.

We would also appreciate that our Symposium is added to the CEGGS website.

Thank you.

I wish you a happy Easter if you celebrate, otherwise have a nice weekend and stay healthy!

Kind regards,

dr. Vesna Glavnik

Znanstvena sodelavka / Research associate

Odsek za prehrambeno kemijo / Department of Food Chemistry